

Finding the closest Homelessness Access Point Service

At the Access Point, you will meet with an Initial Assessment and Planning (IAP) worker who will do an assessment of your housing and support needs.

After this assessment, the IAP worker will address your housing crisis. IAPs have access to the Housing Establishment Fund (HEF) money, which can pay for emergency accommodation and sometimes rent in arrears or advance. Unfortunately, services do not have enough HEF to provide short term accommodation for everyone who needs it.

If appropriate, the IAP may make a referral to one of the specialist homelessness support services. or they may make a referral to a support service in another system such as health or mental health.
